

AQA Mathematical Studies Preliminary Material Study Day

Kings Cross

26th March 2020

Overview

A day focusing on the interrogation of the 2020 AQA Mathematical Studies preliminary material which students are expected to be familiar with for the assessment. Teachers will work together to come up with likely exam scenarios based on the published preliminary materials and discuss how best to prepare students for the exam.

Who will benefit from attending?

Teachers who are currently delivering the AQA Mathematical Studies Level 3 Course who are preparing students for the 2020 examinations.

Content

Please note: As the preliminary material is not published until the beginning of March the details of individual sessions will not be finalised until mid-March. Teachers who sign up to the day will receive an email with details of sessions before the day.

Materials and Equipment

A laptop or other internet enabled device will be expected for the day, please also bring a calculator. All other materials will be provided.
